

Creative Exploration

What I decided to do for my Creative Exploration is taking pictures of what we might see when a dog is abandoned. I was going to try to see and take pictures of actual abandoned pets that I see around but I was not able to as I could barely find one. Which is a good thing but I decided to utilize my own dog for the take. No dogs were harmed. He is loved and He is safe. He was having fun while taking the pictures and got a lot of treats so please do not worry. Besides that leave you with these pictures and I hope you enjoy them!
